Access the Potential of Global Ecommerce and Accurately Gauge Landed Cost

Businesses that can effectively tap the potential of international ecommerce can boost profits and rapidly scale. However, the global ecommerce marketplace can be challenging. In order to deploy an effective cross-border ecommerce strategy, it's critical to partner with the right technology and shipment solution.

As a Pitney Bowes Business Partner solution, Descartes ShipRush™ Global can help to simplify international shipping. From businesses actively selling and shipping internationally, to companies just getting started in the global arena, Descartes ShipRush Global makes it easy.

The solution bundles our intuitive web-based ecommerce software with the shipment processing power of Pitney Bowes, and the localized expertise of a best-in-class global carrier network.

Here's how it works:

(1) Orders are integrated in the Descartes ShipRush Global dashboard from over 70+ systems and marketplaces. (2) Upon shipment, packages are routed to a Pitney Bowes shipping center where they are consolidated to reduce costs and increase shipment speed. (3) The packages are then distributed worldwide all the way to the customer's doorstep.

Customers benefit from shipment visibility and a world-class delivery experience—without unexpected duties, taxes, and trips to the local post office. Businesses benefit from rapid onboarding, international shipping expertise, predictable landed cost, and enhanced customer loyalty.
